Charity Trustee Training

The Informed Trustee

The Informed Trustee equips current and aspiring trustees with the knowledge needed to be successful charity board members. Providing full coverage of the legal, regulatory and financial requirements on charities across the UK, this innovative course will prepare you to make a powerful contribution at the board table whichever jurisdiction your charity is in.

Created to encourage a new generation to charity trusteeship and refresh the skills of existing trustees, the programme's editor-in-chief is Julie Hutchison TEP, a charities specialist at Aberdeen Standard Capital. The course content has been written by a team of 17 charity experts from leading UK law and accounting firms and is supported by the Charity Finance Group.

Effective charity boards comprise trustees with a wide variety of skills, experience and perspectives. Being a charity trustee provides a great opportunity to make a difference to society, support a cause you feel passionately about and gain knowledge of the third sector. Whether you are considering taking on a trustee role, are newly appointed, or are established, this course will provide you with the foundation knowledge to empower you to make a real difference as a charity trustee.

I'd like to be a charity trustee, what's involved?

What skills and knowledge could I bring to the board of a charity?

Volunteer

I've been a trustee for a long time, is my knowledge up to date?

What do I need to know to be an effective board member on a charity?

Course modules are written by charity experts in each of their respective fields from leading UK law and accountancy firms.
